FARMERS ORGANIZE.

Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective Association Takes in Hopkins County

Farmers.

Private John Allen, of Tennessee, and Congressman Stanley Are the Speakers.

MR. ALLEN AT FIRST THOUGHT FARMERS COULD NOT ORGANIZE.

Declares They Have Succeeded Thoroughly and "Have Astonished the World."

There was some confusion in the public mind as to the principal speaker who was advertised to appear at the meeting of tobacco growers called to assemble at the court house in Madisonville on Monday. Because of the lack of a general announcement through all the newspapers of the country there was rather a small gathering and the meeting was held in the County Court room, which was overflowing with farmers principally. Some who attended the meeting thought they were to hear Private John Allen, of Mississippi. The speaker was Private John Allen, of Tennessee.

Before Mr. Allen was introduced Senator Edwards made a short talk in which he endorsed the movement for organization along the lines of protection for the farmer and announced that all probability he would soon be local organizer for the Society of Equity, for county.

Allen then spoke at length in the course of his remarks on some telling points. He said he was here at the request of Felix G. Ewing, the wealthy Tennessee tobacco grower who is responsible for the organization of the Dark Tobacco District Association, which he said now had control of 90 percent of all the tobacco of the Clarksville district and was in position to sell all of it at an average of 10 cents or to arrange for sales on commission with a wealthy German capitalist, of New York city. He had been doing on behalf of the Association during the past two weeks, saying that he had made two speeches daily and had not averaged four hours sleep in the twenty-four. He referred to his military record, saying he had served four years as a private in the Confederate army. He said he was in this present fight to win; that his services were free; that he had refused to accept pay for the work he was doing in this organization. He said he had always believed that a soldier who had to be paid to fight would run away when the shooting began. He said: "If you think I'm going to make you a political speech you are mistaken;" and insisted there was no room for politics in this movement. Referring again to his record as a Confederate soldier, he said: "I have been a Democrat all of my life, but I haven't a darned bit of politics. When it comes to two parties with no difference in policy, I don't know who's right." This remark created considerable merriment among his hearers. Mr. Allen said he represented about 21,000 tobacco growers in the Dark Tobacco Association. This was based on an estimate of three men to each farm represented in the organization. Out of this 21,000 men he asserted there had been but seventeen desertions. All the rest had stood by their contracts with the Association and were reaping the benefit. He painted a prosperous future for the farmers who would enter into and stand by this organization for business and said: "A contented rural population is the basis of a nation's strength." The speaker assumed the attitude of denunciation and declared there were not enough honest men in the Congress of the United States to give relief through legislation. He also asserted that the Tobacco Trust had controlled the Senate and there secured the pigeonholing of bills passed through the House of Representatives by Congressman Stanley, Congressman Gaines of Tennessee, and others. He spoke favorably of the American Society of Equity, but thought their plan was not as practical as that of the Dark Tobacco Association.

Mr. Allen admitted that it was an herculean task to bind the farmers into a business organization and that doubts as to success of the movement had been entertained very generally. He said: "I myself thought it a hopeless undertaking to organize the farmers, but we have astonished the world." He said they had put their tobacco in the hands of their executive committee and that the committee now had a man who would take "every pound at the price the committee put on it." The prices, he said, would average 10 cents. He said they were sampling and pricing honestly and declared: "I never saw an honest hoghead of tobacco packed until this movement started."

The basis of acreage for the reduction of the crop in the Clarksville district Mr. Allen stated to be seven and a half acres of tobacco for the first fifty acres of land, and two and a half acres of tobacco for each additional fifty under cultivation.

There has been in Hopkins county some confusion as to the proposed basis for the reduction of acreage and Mr. Allen explained that this was the basis adopted, but that while it would not result in reduction of acreage in Hopkins county it would, when applied to the entire dark tobacco district, have the effect of reducing the total crop sharply.

He closed by saying that Congressman A. O. Stanley would address the meeting and that after Mr. Stanley was through he would organize and give those who desired a chance to sign the contract and agreement with the Association. He said: "Get into the band wagon if you want to ride. Now's the time. But if you won't ride, then you can walk."

Mr. Stanley paid a tribute to Mr. Allen in beginning his speech and spoke well of both the Dark Tobacco Association and the Society of Equity. He said that all semblance of politics must be kept out of this movement saying, "You can make no graver mistake than to allow politics to enter into this movement." He said: "You don't owe anything to anybody in Hopkins county or anywhere else in this matter." He said further: "You are not here to oppose any organization, any man, or any trust, if there be any, in Hopkins county," and went on to emphasize that the movement was solely and distinctly to effect an organization of farmers along business lines for their own protection.

As a spur to united action Mr. Stanley told of the burro, "the common little jackass" of the west, which he said would always stand together for defense against a common enemy and, if approached by any ravenous animal, they would all form a circle with their heads together and their heels outward. He said it was too often the case that if one hundred farmers went into anything, instead of heads together and kicking the common enemy, they got their heads together and kicked each other. He spoke well of the American Society of Equity as well as of the Dark Tobacco District Association. Explaining the difference in some respects he said the Society was taking farmers everywhere; that the Association was confined to the dark tobacco interests; that it is a corporation to get tobacco to sell, that it costs the farmer nothing, there are no salaries all goes to the farmer.

Mr. Stanley said two things must be done. "You must control the price." He spoke of the Standard Oil, the Pottery and other trusts and told of their methods of controlling output and advancing prices. He emphasized the necessity of reduction of the crop and declared amid laughter that "if he owned a farm and couldn't raise any other crop than tobacco on it, that he'd just get out there and raise h—l." He followed this with a forcible argument in favor of reduced acreage and advised as a climax this declaration: "If the farmer could organize he'd starve the world into submission." He said the farmers could organize if they would and insisted that they should join out of the organizations.

Mr. Allen then took the floor again. He said the "farmer could not raise tobacco for less than 6 cents a pound; that a hand could not produce more than 3,000 pounds which at 6 cents amounted to $180, just what he paid the hand. But somebody had said this same hand had raised corn and hogs, to which he retorted "Yes, but the mule eat the corn and the nigger eat the hogs." He had some hot talk for "that cookoo-seed" Felix G. Ewing, who has heretofore been supplying his government with tobacco under regie contracts, but said he could not get any of their tobacco this year without paying for it. He said "In Graves and Fulton counties they are trying to buy the crop in the plant beds. Next year they'll try to buy the seed next."

The meeting closed with the signing of agreement by a number of farmers who stayed through the speculation and a distribution of copies of the constitution of the "Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective Association," which is the official designation of the organization Mr. Allen represents.

GOOD WORK DONE

In Regard to Tracing Men Implicated in Longstaff Robbery—City Marshal Barnett Has Line on Guilty Parties.

There has been a great deal of good detective work done in the Longstaff robbery that the public knows nothing about. The work is known to have been done by Earlington talent and if he thought best City Marshal Barnett could now make several arrests. The safe in which the money was kept was fished out of a well in Mr. Longstaff's yard, as was also the door. The hinges had been cut off with a coldchisel and they and the knob were found in a stable on the place. The sledge hammer with which the safe was battered was also found and all of these articles are now to be seen at Mr. Barnett's stable. What first led to the finding of these was a large rug with several round holes punched in it. This rug had been kept on top of the trunk from which the safe was stolen. On an examination of the rug it was found that it had been wrapped around the safe to deaden the noise while it was being battered with the sledge hammer. City Marshal Barnett has a line on the principal and in all probability he will be brought to Earlington in a short time, then other arrests will follow in short order. Mr. Barnett and his able assistants have by no means been idle since this occurrence and with the slight clew they had to begin on have done some excellent work.

Are You One of Them?

There are some people who mock at religion, sneer at sacred things, doubt or pretend to doubt immortality and have no faith in any man's honesty. To all such marriage is a galling yoke and chastity a useless custom. If these same people were on the ascendant this earth would be worse than the open jaw of Hell. Commerce would die in a community of atheists. There would be no accumulation of wealth for great enterprises and noble purposes. No charity, no philanthropists, nothing but the present gratification of perverted and sinful appetites. Without a firm belief in religion and the immortality of the soul life would be filled with Egyptian darkness and death full of terrors. It is hope of a life beyond the grave that makes us strive to live purer and better lives during our earthly career.

FEARFUL WRECK

Eight Men Killed in a Head End Collision Near McHenry, on I. C. Thursday Afternoon

CONDUCTOR MISREAD ORDERS.

Following are the facts as received by THE BEE from its Princeton correspondent:

No. 152 fast freight and No. 193 local freight met on the main track 2 miles north of McHenry at 3:30 p. m., demolishing both engines and piling up 14 cars. The safe in which the money was kept was fished out of a well in Mr. Longstaff's yard, as was also the door. The hinges had been cut off with a coldchisel and they and the knob were found in a stable on the place. The sledge hammer with which the safe was battered was also found and all of these articles are now to be seen at Mr. Barnett's stable. What first led to the finding of these was a large rug with several round holes punched in it. This rug had been kept on top of the trunk from which the safe was stolen. On an examination of the rug it was found that it had been wrapped around the safe to deaden the noise while it was being battered with the sledge hammer. City Marshal Barnett has a line on the principal and in all probability he will be brought to Earlington in a short time, then other arrests will follow in short order. Mr. Barnett and his able assistants have by no means been idle since this occurrence and with the slight clew they had to begin on have done some excellent work.

The following persons were killed: Dan English, colored, brakeman, Louisville. Dock Tierney, conductor, Louisville. S. F. Bell, fireman, Louisville. W. B. English, engineer, Cecilia. Chas. St. Clair, fireman, Cecilia. Cordie Smith, (col.) brakeman, Cecilia. Matt Owens, colored, brakeman, Cecilia.

The injured are: W. Yates, engineer, slightly injured. G. Hollingsworth, flagman, Cecilia, injured in back and hips. James Crenshaw, slightly injured.

Richard Crane, injured in shoulder and right arm.

The last three men were stock men. One car of stock was left standing near the engines and were badly scalded. Another car of hogs and cattle were turned over and some of them ran through the woods with the scalded hair slipping from them.

Dock Tierney, the engineer on the northbound train, was the only one who saw the danger and jumped from his engine when the trains were about three car lengths apart. He was buried under both engines and it was several hours before he could be rescued. He died in a few minutes afterwards. Wreckers from Louisville and Paducah were ordered and the wreck was cleared in about nine hours.

ROY BLANKS

Accidentally Kills Isaiah Dunning at Mannington Friday Night.

Roy Blanks, of St. Charles, shot and accidentally killed Isaiah Dunning of Mannington Friday night. Dunning was in the saloon business at Mannington and Blanks had gone there to buy him out. Both men had been drinking and were considerably under the influence of liquor when the killing occurred.

It is said that they examining an old pistol which was thought to be unloaded. Blanks picked it up and pulled the trigger, there was a loud report and Dunning fell shot through the heart dying in a few minutes. He was about forty years of age; leaves a wife and several small children. It has only been a few weeks since Dunning shot Ward Kirby at Mannington and was released at the examining trial. Blanks is said to be deeply concerned at the sad affair. He and Dunning were good friends and had never been in any previous difficulty.

Although the Coroner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts, a special jury was summoned at Madisonville Monday to inquire more closely into the facts in the case.

PENNYRILE MINSTRELS

Gave Good Show to Well Pleased Audience. —House Was Packed Down-Stairs.

The Pennyroyal Minstrels of Madisynville, gave a show here Saturday night in the interest of the Daughters of Confederacy. They did exceedingly well and their jokes and songs were well received. Every song was encored and every joke applauded. The end men were great and kept the house in an uproar most of the time. On the whole the boys did wonderfully well considering the amount of experience they had and the short length of time they have been practicing.

"Ink" Bailey did some good stunts in lightning art drawing and Cliff the juggler, has only been a few weeks since Dunning shot Ward Kirby at Mannington and was released at the examining trial. Blanks is said to be deeply concerned at the sad affair. He and Dunning were good friends and had never been in any previous difficulty.

The Daughters both at Madisynville and Earlington feel very grateful to the Madisynville boys for their kindness in giving this performance. The amount taken was $105.50 and after the expenses are paid, the remainder will be turned over to the Daughters Home at Pewee Valley.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local treatment, but it has been found that it has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Patent Gargle, manufactured by J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in existence. It is taken internally in doses from one drachm to two drachms. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any one who fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Signs That Will Enable You to Forecast Weather.

If it clears off in the night, look for rain the next day. If smoke from the chimney settles instead of rising, it is a sign of stormy weather. When sound travels long distance, there is also a storm near. Never expect much storm in the old of the moon. The absence of dew and unusually heavy dew are alike fore-runners of rain. Not much frost need be expected in the light of the moon.

Distant sound heard distinctly, forebodes no good weather. If the sun "draws up water" it will rain. The pitcher sweating and the tea kettle boiling dry also indicate rain. Cobwebs thickly spread upon the grass are indication of fair weather.

Animal life seems, according to the popular notion, to have peculiar warnings regarding the weather changes. Often these are explainable by the natural causes. "It is a fact recognized by all intelligent stockmen that cattle have an intimation of an approaching storm before it is visible to the human eye. This is certain restlessness which the cowherd has learned to interpret at once.

When you see a pig pasturing in the field build for itself a nest, you may look out for a storm. Chickens take extra pains in oiling their feathers just before a rain. Peafowls send forth their shrill, cries as a warning, and when the quail-cries "more wet" from the meadow the farmer works briskly to get his hay under shelter.

Dairying in the South.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times throughout the entire South is the almost universal interest in the past few years in dairying. The southern states are ideally adapted to this branch of agriculture and a good many farmers have discovered that there is good money in the milk cow. This is especially true since the advent of the hand-powered cream separator, which adds from 25 to 40 per cent. to the profit of each cow. It is a question whether our readers should thoroughly investigate, not only on account of the ready money the milk cow brings in each week, but also, because of the good effect upon the farm in general, which follows the introduction of a dairy herd. If well cared for, the cows will yield a good profit directly, they will still be a paying investment on account of their value to the fertility of the land. —Dixie Farmer.

Facts for the Farmer.

Bermuda grass will furnish some green picking for stock when all native grasses are dead from "drought." An item in a report made by the United States Consul-General Steinbauer at Havana states the value of the Cuban tobacco crop in 1904 as over $30,000,000.

In fattening sheep especially punctuality in feeding should be strictly observed.

Feeding in sheep husbandry is like any other problem in live stock. However good the breed, without good care and feeding they must necessarily degenerate.

Sheep increase so rapidly and mature at so early an age and their flesh is so easily fatted for food, that even a slight loss in weight

In mixed farming there is enough going to waste on every farm to almost maintain a flock of sheep which would be without them.

Sheep independent of man are more than three times as fat as they do for the farm and in the meat they furnish.—American Cultivator.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK.

We are authorized to announce J. W. Robinson as a candidate for County Court Clerk of Hopkins county, subject to the action of the Republican party.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce J. G. Foley as a candidate for Representative of Hopkins county, subject to the action of the Republican convention May 12, 1905.

FARMERS' ORGANIZATION.

The meeting of the Hopkins county tobacco growers at Madisonville on Monday resulted in a number of those present becoming members of the "Dark Tobacco Planters" Protective Association," after hearing earnest speeches by Congressman Stanley and Private John Allen, of Tennessee, urging them to align themselves with the movement for smaller tobacco crops and better prices.

Certain points were given particular emphasis by the speakers, notably that it is a big task to successfully bind the farmers into a business organization; that the farmers can so organize if they will; that "no graver mistake can be made than to allow politics to enter into this movement;" that the farmers are organizing for their own protection in their own business and not "to oppose any organization or any man, or any trust, if there be any, in Hopkins county."

The question of acreage and the curtailment of the tobacco crop, which seems to have been before misunderstood, was made clear by the speakers, as will be seen in report of this meeting on the first page of this issue. No obligation to reduced acreage in Hopkins county is required, but the basis of acreage reduction applied to the entire dark tobacco district will result in a radical reduction of the whole crop.

The farmers can organize along business lines if they will. It will be necessary, however, to prevent partisan politics from entering into their organization and that they keep their eyes open for the designing politician who would, if he could, turn such organization to partisan use and defeat if necessary its business intent.

The farmers can organize along business lines if they will, but they will have to be careful and work with a singleness of purpose to the desired end. Mr. Allen himself said:

"I myself thought it a hopeless undertaking to organize the farmers, but we have astonished the world."

RAISE TOBACCO, OR HADES?

Mr. Stanley said in his speech to the farmers Monday that if he owned a farm and couldn't raise any crop except tobacco on it he'd "just get out on it and raise h---l." Farmer Givens lacks both the knowledge and the facilities for raising tobacco or any other crop but he must have diversion and has turned his attention again to stirring up hades with the coal mining interests of Hopkins county.

While protesting that he does not know at all through personal practice what demagoguery means, Farmer Givens continues to defend his title as "the most able and unscrupulous of political demagogues." He has devoted the mass of about five columns of editorial stuff in two recent issues of his paper to assertion, suggestion and innuendo, written for the purpose of arraying the farmer against the coal operator. He insists, indirectly of course, that the coal operators are opposed to the farmers organizing to curtail their tobacco crop and increase their price for the crop. His whole effort is directed at an attempt to persuade the farmer, indirectly of course, that the coal interests and all who are allied with that important branch of the country's wealth and industry are the farmer's common enemies. He does not possess the manhood to interview any one or any number of coal men in the county to see if his dream is true, but he grabs the coal industry of the county unscrupulously, throws it into the arena and jumps on it with both feet, shouting the while that he has found a monster that is trying to waylay the farmer.

Mr. Stanley says to the farmers of Hopkins county: "You can make no graver mistake than to allow politics to enter into this in any manner. You do not in this owe anything to anybody in Hopkins county or anywhere else. This is a business organization for you farmers; nothing else enters into it." * * * "You are not here to oppose any organization or any man or any trust, if there be any, in Hopkins county."

Mr. Givens seizes on a mere pretext in connection with this farmers' movement to open his batteries on the coal interests of Hopkins county in a preliminary effort to make the political battle cry of his party's fight this year "the people against the corporations." In a letter to the last issue of the Madisonville Hustler, Mr. Late McLaughlin, a Republican who has studied the situation, says the Democrats threaten to make this the "paramount issue." Mr. Givens' attacks on the coal interests in this connection go to prove what Mr. McLaughlin says.

Speaking of The Bee's news article quoting the opinions of several farmers, and our editorial reflecting those opinions, Mr. Givens says: "But the allusion to the farmers' organization, as playing politics, is mentioned in glaring headline, etc." Neither the democratic nor republican farmers quoted by THE BEE nor THE Bee itself has intimated that any farmer was trying to play politics in connection with the farmers' organization. It requires no "diagram" for the observing reader to fathom Mr. Givens' purpose and attitude in that connection. One thing, however, that is yet unexplained is why Judge Givens refused to announce in his paper last Friday the farmers' meeting called for Monday, at which Private John Allen of Tennessee, and Congressman Stanley spoke. Can it be that Mr. Givens and the Hustler have a preference as to who shall call farmers' meetings and who shall address the farmers of Hopkins county in the interest of a business organization for their protection? THE BEE and other papers of the county published notice of this last meeting and have been advertising all meetings called for the farmers.

The Hustler did not publish notice of last meeting and it is currently reported that Mr. Givens refused to insert such notice. If this is true there may be a reason for it that will conform with Mr. Givens' habit of demagoguery and his game of politics.

MASS OF SORES

Awful Suffering of Little Boy from an Itching Humour

CURED BY CUTICURA

Not One Square Inch of Skin on His Whole Body Unaffected

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until we could not dress him any more. We then called a doctor to try a certain medical college but the treatment did no good. At this time I was induced to try Cuticura. He was so bad that I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on his bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. The Cuticura Ointment did not affect him on his whole body that was not affected. He was one mass of sores. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it would take the skin off with it, and the sores from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well. I then often used a special form of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth application of Cuticura Ointment he was well again. His skin is off of twenty percent, but it finally yielded to the treatment. Now I can say that he is entirely well and I am very grateful to the boy you never saw him like this day." ROBERT WATTAM, 4922 Center Ave., Chicago, Ill., Dec. 30, 1897.

SIX YEARS LATER

Mr. Wattam writes

"Your letter of the 21st in regard to the cure of my little boy I say to you, I am truly thankful to you that the cure effected by the Cuticura Remedies has been a most thorough and successful cure to date." Chicago, Feb. 23, 1903.

TWO BROTHERS MEET DEATH

In the Royal Coal Company's Pond Last Thursday While in Swimming.

The bodies of Thomas and Luther Townzen, who were drowned in the Royal Coal Company's pond Thursday, were recovered that night with grab hooks attached to long poles. The boys had been in swimming and when the younger was attacked with cramps he and his brother were both drowned. When the bodies were recovered they were close together showing that they went down to death trying to assist each other. Their remains were taken to the home of their father near Charleston Friday and placed in the same grave in Young's graveyard. They were both on the verge of manhood and it is said their funeral was the largest ever witnessed in that community. Friends and relatives from all the county assembled to pay their last respects to the dead boys. It was reported that Mrs. Townzen had died from the shock when she heard of her boys' death but this is a mistake, while she is in poor health she was able to attend the funeral of Friday.

Feeble Minded Institute Crowded to Capacity.

Frankfort, Ky., May 20.—The State Institution for Feeble-minded Children, located here, is, for the first time since it was established, so crowded with patients that no more can be accommodated. Supt. Hill will send notice to this effect to the county Judges of the State.

Whooping Cough.

"In the spring of 1901 my children had whooping cough," says Mrs. W. C. Capps, of Capps, Ala. "I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with the 'miracle' satisfaction of results. I think this is the only remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough." This remedy keeps the cough loose, prevents the severity and frequency of the coughing spasms, and controls any tendency toward pneumonia.

TWO HUNDRED DOLLAR

Penalty to Take Mail Other Than Your Own.

The authorities at Washington have fixed a penalty of a $200 fine on any person, black or white, taking out of the post office mail other than their own. All postmasters are liable to make mistakes and get the mail in the wrong boxes, and the law says that people must examine their mail before leaving the office, and, should they receive a piece which is not addressed to them, it must be returned at once. That it is the fault of the postmaster makes no difference. This law includes newspapers as well as first class mail.

Will Open Coal Mine at Manitou.

An Indian company through its representative, Mr. Moss, has secured the mineral rights to 1,500 acres of land lying about one mile north of Manitou. The company also has options on 75 acres of land adjoining the Providence branch of the L. & N. R. R. and the tipple will be erected on this plot. Equipment has been ordered and work will begin as soon as possible. It is the expectation of the company to have their plant in operation within a year's time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walker Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walker entertained a few of their friends last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Belya Walker, of Kelly, Ky. Cake and cream was served after several games had been played and at a late hour the guests departed for their homes. Those present were Misses Ivey Hawkins, Rosie Walker, Belya Walker, Ivy, Linnie, Hattie and Everett Kestner, Lizzie Peyton and Lena Dool; Messrs. Cono Prather, Lee Peyton, Neal Kestner and Grover Watts.

The Sins of the Parent FREQUENTLY FALL UPON THE CHILDREN

Especially terrible does it seem that children should be born into the world—as they frequently are—having in their little innocent bodies the germs of Specific Blood Poison, or, more frequently, Scrofula, which is, as a rule, the result of Specific Blood Poison in some ancestor.

It would be an outlook almost too intolerable to contemplate if such scourges as scrofula and other forms of blood poisoning were incurable.

Yet for long centuries these diseases have baffled the most skillful medical science.

Men and women in the past have resorted to cures for these diseases which were almost as obnoxious and dangerous as the disease itself.

The taking into the system of mercury and other mineral drugs cannot be too strenuously condemned and avoided in such cases.

That a cure, absolute and sure, can be effected is evidenced by the following letter, telling of the result of taking

FOERG'S REMEDY

Oconee, Va., Aug. 15th, 1908

We have two little girls that were badly afflicted with Scrofula. After trying three of the best doctors we could find they continued to get worse all the while. I was advised by a friend to try FOERG'S REMEDY, so I procured one bottle, and it has cured them sound and well. This was four years ago, and no sign of return, so I cannot say too much for this medicine, for I think it is the best blood medicine in the world.

On June 3 the Daughters of R. E. Lee Camp No. 622, composed of Earlington and Madisonville ladies, will give a picnic at Lakeside Park to the Old Veterans and Sons of Veterans. On this occasion Major F. B. Harris, of Mortons Gap, will present to the F. B. Harris Camp of the Sons of Veterans a beautiful banner, the handiwork of Misses Mollie and Maggie Whalen, of this city. Everett Jennings, of Madisonville, will make the presentation speech and W. C. McLeod will respond. The Daughters will confer the Cross of Honor on several of the Old Veterans and appropriate speeches will be made on this occasion.

Court Notes.

In the case of Henry Williams of Nebo, for furnishing a weapon, Williams was found guilty and his fine was fixed at $50.00 and costs.

Esquire Jesse Phillips of this place, was admitted as a member of the Hopkins county bar in Circuit Court Monday.

In the Jeff Morgan case the court overruled a motion for a new trial. This case will be carried to the Court of Appeals as soon as transcript is ready.

NEBO NOTES.

A fine rain fell here Monday. Our farmers complain that we have had too much rain. A great deal of bottom land has not been planted and a great deal that has been planted again.

The tobacco crop is being planted. Some are done planting while others are nearly so. By the 1st of June the larger part of the planters will have finished. From what we can ascertain a much larger crop will be planted this year than last.

Bro. G. L. Woodruff filled his regular appointment at Rose Creek last Sunday. A large crowd was in attendance.

J. S. Durham and son attended church at Rose Creek Sunday.

Miss Erma Hill went to Madisonville Monday.

Dr. C. R. Ferguson left Saturday for Arkansas on a hunting expedition, but what he is hunting we are unable to say. He will be absent several days.

News was received here Monday morning of the death of Henry Brooks. He was about ten years of age and had been sick with dropsy for a long time. He was a son of Rufus and Fannie Brooks. He was buried at the Union cemetery Monday afternoon.

Dick Averitt and Bob Ford, who have been sawmilling in Mississippi for the last 6 months, came back last week. They say that the hot weather run them out. They report mosquitoes a size smaller than peckerwoods, and gnats by the bushel.

Sam Whaler began molding bricks last week but had to stop for the want of hands. He resumed work Monday but was stopped by the rain.

There was no preaching at any of the churches Sunday. Day was the young men an opportunity to take their girls elsewhere.

Yandal Tifford has completed his new residence and moved home. He gave an ice cream supper Saturday night.

Mrs. A. M. Barnett, who has been visiting her parents for the last four months, came home last week.

Mr. John H. Langier, who moved to Madisonville about a year ago, has moved back to Nebo. He says that there is no place like Nebo.

Mr. Somers, who has been living in Nebo for six months, has moved to the country.

James Morrow has rented J. A. Hoffman's house and lot and gone to keeping house.

Birk & Roberts have begun shipping their last year's purchase of tobacco. Owing to the condition of the market they have been holding their purchases.

We are informed that a firm from Indiana will begin sinking a shaft for coal about one mile East of here, having taken options on 1,500 acres of land.

Considerable interest was exhibited in regard to the erection of a flour mill at this place, but seems to have died out as we hear no more of it.

CASTLEBERRY.

Chapter of Deaths on the Border Line of Hopkins and Christian.

DECORATION DAY SERVICES ANNOUNCED.

The Grim Reaper has again been in our vicinity and claimed several victims. On the morning of the 15th inst. the 11 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Duning, of Pod, died and was buried the next day at the Duning grave yard. On the morning of the 16th the 6 years old son of Mr. Lincoln Knight, died and was buried the next day at the McNaught grave yard and on Wednesday morning, the 17th, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Frank Pool, of the Coal Association church neighborhood, died of consumption. Mrs. Pool was 44 years of age, was a most estimable lady, a loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother, loved and respected by all her neighbors and friends. She leaves a husband and 6 or 7 children to mourn her loss.

Mr. Clay Alexander, an aged citizen who lives with his sister, Mrs. Adeline Adams, is very low with tropical trouble and is expected to live but a few days longer.

Mr. William Jackson, an aged citizen of Dawson Springs, has been quite ill for several days at the residence of his son-in-law, Esq. J. W. Orton, but is slowly recovering at present. Dr. Williams, of Crofton, is attending him.

The continued, or rather protracted wet weather, has greatly retarded farm work on bottom land.

Copiable tobacco is being set, plants plentiful and good seasons for setting.

There will be Memorial Services Sunday, May 28th, at the following time and places: Cranor's school house at 9:30 o'clock a. m., Castleberry church at 2 o'clock p. m., Campbell's graveyard at 4 p. m. The public, and especially the ladies, are most cordially invited to attend and take part in decorating the graves of our heroes with sweet spring flowers. Remember we decorate the graves of all, regardless of the flags they followed, conceding to them an honesty of opinion as doing right as they saw it. There will be several good speakers to take part in the exercises. It has become the custom, and we think a very commendable one, for all the surviving friends and relatives of those buried at our graveyards, to meet there on that day and decorate the graves of citizens and soldiers alike.

Another sad occurrence at Mancington, Ky. Another Wilson added to the long list of men who have lost their lives here. On Wednesday night of last week Mr. Isaiah Duning, saloonkeeper of that place, was accidentally shot and killed by Mr. Roy Blanks, of St. Charles, and was buried the next day at the Duning graveyard 4 miles West of Crofton near Mr. Duning's old home, where he spent his boyhood days. He leaves a wife and 4 children to mourn his loss.

HECLA NOTES.

Mrs. A. J. Wilson was called unexpectedly to Rock Bridge on Saturday evening to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Adella Pennington, who is in a very critical condition.

Mr. Dock Griffen has recently purchased a very handsome phonograph, of which his little boys are very proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brown left for the South on last Saturday. They have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Hogan.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gibson are the guests of Mrs. Mollee Bascom for a few days last week.

Mr. Henry Foard is expected home in the course of a few days. He has resided in St. Louis for the past year and is now enroute for New Orleans.

The Hecla school will close on the 7th June.

W. J. Foley.

In this issue of "THE BEE" will be found the announcement of W. J. Foley, of Madisonville, for the office of Representative, subject to the action of the Republican party. Mr. Foley is a representative citizen of Hopkins county and has been in business in Madisonville for a number of years. If elected he will doubtless fill the office in a creditable manner.

No More Fishing.

On account of the bass and other fish nesting, there will be no more fishing in the lake until July 1st, and notice is hereby given to the public to this effect. A violation of the above notice will be prosecuted.

DENIAL MADE.

Reported Sale of Northern Coal & Coke Company's Plant Utica--Preparations for Development.

Ashland, Ky., May 20.—S. J. N. Camden, of Parkersburg, W. Va., president of the Northern Coal and Coke Company, spent part of yesterday in the general office of the company at this place, going over the company's affairs with its general manager.

The Senator talked very freely about the company's property and its holdings of 325,000 acres of coal land on the headwaters of the Big Sandy and Kentucky rivers, comprising the great coal fields of Northeastern Kentucky. When pressed for a confirmation or denial of the report lately published in the Cincinnati papers that his company, or its holdings, were owned or controlled by the Great Central railroad system, he stated that the rumor was entirely without foundation. He said that his company was anxious to have its property developed and its coal and coke open to the markets, and would encourage any and all railroads to build into its territory. He seemed to be enthusiastic as to the great value of the company's coal fields and the superior quality of the coal and coke. It is thought that a line of railroad will be built from the South, in addition to the one from the North, which now seems assured.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., May 20.—Charleston, W. Va., capitalists have completed a deal whereby they secure 22,000 acres of land on the North Fork of the Kentucky river from J. H. Hambrick, of Ashland. The price is reported at $9.25 per acre. The lands are in Lee and Breathitt counties and have underlying their surface at least 100 veins of cannel and bituminous coals, ranging in thickness from eight to thirty inches. A company will be organized and work to develop the lands will be begun in a short time. It is the purpose of the purchasers to build a railroad to get the coal to the Louisville & Eastern railroad and to open up several coal mines. The new owners get possession of the lands at once.

Richmond, Ky., May 20.—A special train bearing a number of prominent officials of the Louisville & Atlantic railroad passed through here today on a tour of inspection. It is the party's intention to examine the resources of the line in Lee county with a view to opening coal mines in the mountain country adjacent to the tracks of the Louisville and Atlantic.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the county clerk's office at Madisonville by the Washington Coal & Coke Company, W. L. Gordon, Sr., Geo. W. Rash and M. K. Gordon, all of Madisonville, are named as incorporators of the new company. The new concern is capitalized at $100,000 divided into 200 shares. It is stated that all coal rights above No. 9 vein have been leased by this company from the Victoria Coal Co., and that a plant will be opened in the near future to work the No. 11 vein.

The United States Gas, Coal and Coke Company of Sturgis, Ky., has secured the mineral rights to several thousand acres of land lying near Sturgis.

Meers, Elvie Hankins and Floyd Deberry, of Nortonville, were here Friday on business.

The report sent out from Morganfield, Ky., several days ago, announcing that Thomas A. Nevins, the New York multi-millionaire, had purchased the Tradewater Coal & Coke Company's plant at Sturgis, Ky., and the Baker Coal Company's property, at Wheatcroft and 2,500 acres of coal lands lying in that section has been denied at the offices of Mr. Nevins in New York.

Lawson Miles, who had the misfortune to have his foot mashed several weeks ago, is able to be out again.
